How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

PIANOS.

GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLE'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein: thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL, not affected by extremes of climate. This will be be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.

Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it soften cracks, splits, drys out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.

We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.

A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.

Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occassionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

PRESIDENTIAL CORNS.

A Washingtonian Who Has Attended the Toes of Many Presidents.

There is an old chiropodist in Washington who has doctored the corns of all the great men in the country for the last third of a century. I asked him the other day how many Presidents had sat in his chair.

"Let me see," he said. "I believe I have had every one of them since the time of Buchanan. I came to Washington in his administration, but had not much practice then. People used to doctor their own corns. Several times a year I went to the White House while Lincoln was there. Both he and his wife had very troublesome feet. While I was operating on Lincoln once, he admitted a delegation of clergymen who had come to see him about extending the work of the Christian Commission in the army. They were very much astonished when they were shown into the room where he sat on a table with his bare feet upon a chair, and I do not know of any other President who would have received so dignified a delegation under similar circumstances, but his time was very valuable and he did not want to keep them waiting. He told a number of funny stories about his experience with corns and bunions, and very soon the doctors of divinity recovered from their astonishment and began to exchange views on the subject. Then they sobered down and presented their case to Mr. Lincoln, who promised to issue the order they wanted.

"At another time I was with him when Secretary Stanton came over from the War Department with the news of a great victory, and the President was so pleased that he jumped around the room with bare feet like a boy.

"I never had much to do with Johnson, and never treated him but once that I remember of, when he came to the office. Grant had very good feet. They were quite small for a man of his build, and he had little trouble with them. I do not remember having treated him more than three or four times while he was President, although after he went out of office he came down here on several occasions. He was visiting General Beale. I believe it was after his trip around the world.

"Hayes sent for me only once, but Garfield was a regular customer all the while he was in Congress, and after he became President. I suppose I have his name twenty or thirty times on my books. He was always troubled with corns. The day before he was assassinated a colored man in footman's livery came into my office and asked if I could treat General Garfield at once, as he was to leave town the next day. I had a patient in the chair, but he kindly consented to give way for the President, who then came up, and was here for half an hour. Arthur never had any trouble with his feet—he always was very careful about his shoes—but I was sent for several times while he was President to treat members of his family or guests."—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

CHILDHOOD'S JOYS.

How a Good Man Was Obeyed by a Crowd of Little Ones.

"Now, children," said the superintendent at a Sunday-school festival the other night, "we are going to open the doors of the dining-room and I want you all to be the little ladies and gentlemen you always are, and march out quietly and in order and take your places at the table and sit quietly there until you can be waited upon. The doors will now be opened."

The doors are opened and the following remarks coming from the "little ladies and gentlemen" will show how their dear superintendent was obeyed:

"S op v'er crowding!"
'Git off me!"
'Push me again, will you?"
'Hit me if you dare!"
'Back, back!" from the superintendent.
"I got this chair first!"
"You never!"
"I did."
"You didn't!"
"I shan't give it up."
"Teacher, make him"—
'Gimme some cake."
'I want some ice-cream, quick!"
"Fetch along your frozen pudding!"
"Where's my cream?"
'Stop pushing this table!"
"Let me alone!"
"Boys!" says the superintendent, jumping on a chair and shouting like a sea-captain in a storm, "if you don't look out you'll upset that table, keep quiet and"—
"Is that ice-cream coming to-night?"
"You got my spoon!"
"I ain't!"
"I saw you grab it!"
"Never!"
"Here! bring some spoons this way!"
"Hi, Toddy, throw us a slab o' that cokernut cake, will ye?"
"Here she comes!"
'Let her fly—who stole my cream?"
'Order! order! order!" but there is no order.—Detroit Free Press.

—A new and original corner is announced in London, the existance of which has been made known by the sudden rise in the price of arsenic. A syndicate of twelve firms in the city has bought up all the arsenic in the market, and has secured in advance all that is likely to go into it for some months. The sorrow of ladies whose complexions may suffer, and of would-be suicides will be only equaled by the rejoicing of the rats.

PAPER BRACELETS.

Novelties in Ball Programmes and Menus for the Coming Season.

Novelties every year.

This refers more to the stationer's trade than to any other in the world, not even excepting the milliner's art or the modiste's profession. Upon novelties alone do the stationers flourish. This year the styles vary more than ever from the efforts of former years.

Here are a few of them:

A novel ball programme consists of a neat, thin cardboard band, one and one-half inches in width, edged with gold, which encircles the wrist like a bracelet, and is easily closed and unclosed by means of the thin silken cord which suspends the pencil. "Dances" is inscribed on the overlapping flap, the date and residence below, and the dances in rotation all around, with space left for the gentleman to write his name or initials. These novel "bracelet programmes" can be had in white, pale blue or pink, and stamped to order at short notice.

This is another. It is a menu. It is also a bracelet, and is fastened by a dainty-colored ribbon bow after the menu is stamped or written and passes over the folded table napkin. These are in white or delicate-tinted card and are pretty and novel. They can be stamped with a crest, if required, close to the bow, where "Menu" is written in gold.

And here are other novelties in the same line. There are some French menus, with pen-and-ink sketches, which are uncommon and consist of sets of six, issued fresh every month. Among the subjects are scenes at race meetings, visitors to art galleries, fashionably attired female figures stepping out of a large broken egg in various positions, others caught in the rain, etc., all artistically and quaintly drawn. Two slits are cut in the paper and the menus are slipped in, so that they can be used as often as they are not carried off by the guests, which is so frequently done.

This does not finish the new menus by any means. A series of spring menus, beautifully colored with buttercups, daisies and violets; another of Watteau figures, each one a picture; an old English one in imitation of discolored edged parchment, with narrow double ribbons run down the side holding the seal, and "Ye Lyste of ye Dyshes of ye Refection" illuminated above in old characters; others to fold up, representing a natural-looking slice of toast, etc., are all popular designs.

Any one who can not be suited with this must be hard to please indeed.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

ABOUT WHIRLWINDS.

A Theory That They Are Caused by the Rising of Heated Air from the Ground.

In the "Naturalist in Nicaragua," Mr. Belt has the following on the origin of whirlwinds and cyclones: "I am confident that a study of the smaller eddies of air is the proper way to approach the difficult question of the origin of cyclones." The movements of these small whirling masses may be observed from the outside, and their progress traced from the incipient stage to that of dissolution. In the beginning of a whirlwind there is a movement near the surface of the ground of light particles of dust toward a center attended or occasioned by a rotary motion of the air. This quickly rises into a whirling column from fifty to a hundred feet or more in height. On the dry, hot plains of Central and South America, and of Australia, this phenomenon is of frequent occurrence, and is not usual in our temperate latitudes in summer. The whirling columns, according to Mr. Belt, differ in diameter from a few feet to many miles, and his opinion is that "there is a complete gradation from the little dust eddies, through larger whirlwinds and tornadoes, to the awful typhoons and cyclones of China and the West Indies."

In the small whirlwinds which occur over the land, there is no evidence of the condensation of vapor occurring in dry air. But where the atmosphere is charged with humidity, as over tropical seas, the condensation is great. The notion, therefore, that whirlwinds and tornadoes originate in sudden condensation Mr. Belt thinks not well founded, the phenomenon being an accident rather than a cause of the movement. Nor is the theory a satisfactory one that the meeting of conflicting currents of air and consequent condensation give rise to the phenomenon. Attention is directed to the fact that many terrible whirlwinds are dry, and run their course without producing rain or cloud. They originate at or very near the surface of the ground, where the air becomes intensely heated. "The quivering of the air over hot ground foreshadows the whirlwind as mirage does the simoon, and sultry heat and oppressive calm do the hurricane." In the stratum of heated air next the ground resides the energy which produces the whirlwind. That this, in many instances, is prevented from rising has been proved by numerous observations. At last the upward tendency becomes so strong that it breaks through the overlying heavier air, and there occurs an upward discharge, followed by all the phenomena of whirlwinds.

The Mocking-Bird's Song.

Whether or not this musical prodigy has any hibernacle, it is difficult to say. Winter is not, strictly speaking, his concert season, yet he gives many a charming matinee while snow is on the ground. When the sun shines brightly on a frosty day, and the air is clear and crisp, his jubilant song sometimes starts us from our beds. Though he does not sing every day in winter, it is certainly true that he does not retire for the season, nor withdraw to any great distance from his home. His true hour of melody is, like that of Europe's queen of song, in the night. Then all his music and poetry are at high tide. On a summer night, when the air is fragrant with the rose and Cape jessamine, when the magnolia leaves and blossoms glisten under a moon as bright as day; when the myrtle and pomegranate flowers shine like jewels, and the cloth-of-gold looks up to the stars with a radiance almost like their own; when the air and earth are full of a tenderness that marks the silent, peaceful hour of midnight, then this matchless bird, forgetting his capricios of the day, and full of love and sentiment, pours forth such a flood of song, such a grand epic of romance and beauty that the very heavens seem to listen, and human hearts are touched with a deep and holy calm.—Zitella Cocke.

Had Waited Ten Years.

A countryman who was in waiting at the Third street depot the other day, took a stroll around the square, and when he returned he said to the policeman at the door.

"Say, I met a feller up here who says he knew me twenty years ago, and that he had been waiting ten years to lick me."

"Well, keep away from him."

"But he is mistaken; I never knew him."

'Let him go; what is it to you?"

"Why, I don't want a man to be mistaken. I don't want a man aching to lick me when I'm not the right man."

He was advised to sit down and wait for his train, but pretty soon the officer saw a crowd up the street and hastened to the spot to find a man lying on his back on the walk, evidently unconscious, while the countryman was at hand to explain:

"You see, I told him he was mistaken, but he insisted, and when he took me by the goatee what could I do? Dear me, but how it does embarrass me to enter a strange town and knock a strange man head over heels. Some one pour water on him or blow in his ear!"—Detroit Free Press.

GRASS AS A FERTILIZER.

THERE are many farms in this valley that have been tilled for years without fertilization with the result that the land is becoming less fertile every year. The Portland Oregonian in discussing the disastrous effects of taking the strength from land by constant cropping without giving it anything in return, says: "If a man had a store of gold in bank and knew that he was constantly eating into his capital and decreasing his substance, he would see that his fortune was diminishing year by year. So the man whose capital is invested in land and who crops that land continually, so that it loses fertility, as certainly eats into his principal and diminishes his income to that extent." A forcible illustration is given in an address recently delivered at a farmers' institute in Missouri. The author was discussing the advantages of grass for restoring and preserving fertility and alluded to the great effort made in the past to increase the acreage in crops, with little thought as to the results. The disastrous effect of exhaustive tillage—wheat of the wheat—is shown by comparing the yield of periods of five years during the past quarter of a century. From 1863 to 1868, the first period, the yield of wheat in Missouri was 14 bushels per acre; during the second period, from '68 to '73, it was 12 2-5 bushels; during the third period, '73 to '78, it was 11 9-10 bushels; from '78 to '83, it was 11 7-10. During the same four periods the yield of corn averaged, say 40 bushels for the first, 32 for the second, 27 for the third, 26½ for the fourth, and for the last two years was only 23 bushels.

What is true of Missouri must be true of all other States, for that State had a generous soil and salubrious climate. The value of grass as a renovator and preservative of soil he shows by a comparison of the agricultural systems of France and England. In France 53 per cent of the tillable land is annually sown to some kind of grain, while in England only 25 per cent is sown to grain. Again, while France has only 22 per cent of tillable area in grass, England has 50 per cent. But with all this great difference in area sown to grain, the yield per capita is almost identical in the two countries. The same lesson is taught by the farming done in different parts of the United States. New England is sterile and rocky, and in comparison with the fertile West is naturally little more than a desert. The same is true of the Eastern States, as a rule; yet the improved farming of recent years has practically made the barren, rocky hills of the East more productive than the naturally fertile prairies of the great West. At the East from 50 to 75 per cent of the arable land is sowed to grass, and now that region produces more bushels of wheat and oats and more tons of grass per acre than the States of the rich Mississippi Valley, that have been called of inexhaustible fertility. This change of relations is chargeable to the injurious effect of continued tillage without regard to maintaining the fertility of the soil by proper rotation and selection of crops.

To sum up as briefly as may be the points made, constant tillage keeps the soil open and porous, so that its best elements or constituents are easily leached out, beside the quantity consumed by the growth of exhaustive crops. All these add nothing to the soil and take away a great deal, and permit the loss by evaporation and leaching of much more, while a sod offers a protection as well as furnishes a crop, and being fed off by stock, their droppings fertilize. The occasional plowing under of this sod greatly enriches, and a careful and judicious rotation, to which it is only possible now to allude, gives the farmer an easier life as well as gives rest and fertility to the soil.

THE public drinks quarts and gallons—nay, barrels—of mineral water, but in ten cases out of twelve drinks without discretion. Often no harm is done, but much good might be accomplished if the careful advice of Dr. Titus Munson Coan, in Harper's Magazine for October, were only followed. Under the title "Home Uses of Mineral Waters," the effects of the different waters whose names are heard everywhere, are pointed out. Yet the article is so carefully prepared that no particular water gets a puff, although the quantities of each kind are justly valued. The thirsty public could not do better than to pause before they drink, and read Dr. Coan's article with attention.

THE official returns of the Maine election from all the voting places save a few remote and unimportant plantations, give Burleigh (Rep.) for Governer 79,513; Putnam (Dem.) 61,018. The Republicans plurality is 18,495. The pluralities of the Congressmen are: First district, Reed, 2,437; Second district, Dingley, 1,483; Third district, Milliken, 6,533; Fourth district, Boutelle, 4,810. The Republicans have all the Senators, 31, and 125 Representatives to 26 Democrats.

Administrator vs. Administrator.

John Tivnen, Public Administrator, and as the administrator of the estate of Pierce Ryan, deceased, brought suit in Department 2 of the Superior Court, Saturday, against Patrick Stapleton, the former administrator of said estate, and Thomas Morrison and Richard Harris, the sureties on the bond of said Patrick Stapleton, for the recovery of the sum of $2,501.27, the alleged amount due the estate by said Patrick Stapleton. The complaint sets forth that on or about the 9th day of January, 1871, letters of administration were issued to said Patrick Stapleton, and that on or about the 20th day of January, 1871, he duly qualified as such administrator and filed his bond, duly approved in the sum of $1,700, with the above mentioned sureties. That on or about the 23d day of February, 1888, proceedings were instituted in the Superior Court to compel said Patrick Stapleton to render a full account and report changing the condition of said estate, and that on or about the 30th day of March, 1888, the plaintiff, John Tivnen, as Public Administrator filed his petition for revocation of the said letters of administration heretofore issued to said Stapleton, and that letters of administration be issued to said petitioner. That on or about the 23d day of May, 1888, said petition was granted in full. That said Stapleton was then and there indebted to the estate in the sum of $2,501.27, and that the same is due now and payable, and that no part thereof has ever been paid. That said Stapleton has refused and neglected and still refuses and neglects to discharge his indebtedness to said estate. That said Harris, as surety on the bond of said Stapleton, was notified that he was liable on the bond of said Stapleton for the amount of his indebtedness. Wherefore said plaintiff prays judgment against said defendants in the sum of $2,501.27 and costs. Santa Rosa Democrat.

The price for hop-picking says the Cloverdale "Reville" has been raised from 1¼ cents per pound owing to the rise in the market price of hops, which latter is being watched by the hop-growers. It is very gratifying to note the interest revived by the rise in the price which for the past few years has been so low as to make it a very discouraging industry to the growers.

Grapes as Food.

It is now conceded by scientists and well-informed men in all professions that as food for human beings there is nothing in the vegetable world superior to good varieties of ripe grapes, and they not only give strength, endurance and vivacity to those who regard themselves as well, but restore the sick and debilitated to health when eaten freely during the vintage times of the year, in the vineyards or fresh from the city markets. As a practical illustration of their health-inspiring qualities is the case of Mrs. Phœbe Swarthout, who resides with her son-in-law, J. F. Crosby, an extensive grape-grower, on Lake Keuka, New York. Mrs. Swarthout was ninety-four years old in January last, and now is in good health and strength, although she sustained a fracture of the arm three years ago and again a year later, by being thrown from a carriage, but the broken arm is as sound as ever. Mrs. Swarthout has been a grape-eater for years and is firm in her belief that she could not live without them. She begins with the earliest grapes in August, and has eaten an average of two pounds a day during the season. It is also a well-established fact in grape regions that the large number of girls who work among the grapes continuously through the season of picking and shipping, which is from September to December, or later, gain in flesh from five to twenty pounds, and many who come from the city in delicate health, return to their homes well and strong.—Vineyardist.

The Donahue Estate.

On Monday last the appraisers of the estate of the late Peter Donahue filed a statement in the Probate Court, San Francisco. The account existing between the deceased and the San Francisco and North Pacific Railroad at the time of his death showed a balance of $227,009 51 due him. In an agreement made before his death it is stipulated that the unissued shares of the Sonoma Valley Railroad Company and the San Rafael Railroad Company shall be issued to stockholders of the San Francisco and North Pacific Company as follows: To Mrs. Annie Donahue and Mary Ellen Von Schroeder 30 per cent each and to J. Mervyn Donahue 40 per cent.

A $1,000 Wager.

One thousand dollars has been wagered in Santa Rosa on the result of the coming election. A Republican in that city offered to bet that amount that Harrison and Morton would be elected, and the $1000 was immediately covered by two Democrats, who were equally as willing to back Cleveland and Thurman.

AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition.

A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 327 Hillis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, about which she had heard so much recently, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headache. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following just received is the convincing conclusion, and tells its own story:

San Francisco, February 8, 1888.

DEAR SIR:—I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will, out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public, for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler.
327 Hillis street.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

DEAR SIR:—It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought within its trail a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I have tried several remedies which are advertised as specially for the liver, and never could get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I was recommended to try a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

Distress After Eating — Sick Headache — Heartburn — Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

The Sonoma Valley Railroad, notwithstanding the advent of its rival, the Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad, still continues to conduct most of the freight and passenger traffic between Sonoma Valley towns and San Francisco.

The Republican delegates of Sonoma Township met last Wednesday and made the following nominations for township officers: Justices of the Peace, J. M. Cheney and J. M. Zane; Constables, D. Christie and J. J. Law; Road Overseer, C. F. Carmer.

The card of Mr. L. W. Julliard, the regular Democratic nominee for County Clerk, appears among the "Political Cards" in this issue. Mr. Julliard for the past two years has been Deputy under Clerk Mulgrew, and has made an excellent and faithful officer.

M. K. Cady has taken possession of his Agua Caliente Springs Hotel property which has been under the control of the Verano Land Company for the past six or eight months, and which, owing to a disagreement among the directors, who have been fighting like cats and dogs among themselves, has been closed for several months. It is Mr. Cady's intention to reopen the house at an early day.

D. D. Davisson commenced wine-making last Thursday with his new "Le Mervilleux" press. He will make a large quantity of wine this season, and in order to secure more room has removed his cellar from the Wegner building on Napa street to the large adobe building on Spain street. Mr. Davisson, who has had years of experience in wine making says the "Le Mervilleux" press is one of the best he has ever used.

Chester Ruffner, a Sonoma boy, who left home about a year ago to make his own way in the world, is prospering at Julien, San Diego county. He is the editor of the "Sentinel" in that place and as such is taking a lively interest in local matters. At the Democratic primaries held in his town last Saturday, Chester was chosen one of the delegates to the County Convention which convened in San Diego last Monday.

In another column appears the card of Mr. Alfred W. Dana, the Republican nominee for County Treasurer. Mr. Dana is an old resident of Santa Rosa, a gentleman of ample means and is in every way qualified for the office. The people of Sonoma county are fortunate in having Messrs. Stofen and Dana pitted against each other for this very responsible office, for no matter how the election may go the funds of the county are bound to be in safe and competent hands.

OUR EXHIBIT.

Those Who Contributed to Its Success from Sonoma Valley.

The excursion train from Sonoma Valley towns last Saturday carried one of the largest delegations of people from this section that ever passed over the road. By far the majority of these found their way into the Fair, to view, among other things, the attractive exhibit from Sonoma, which had been awarded the second premium of $600 a few days before. The Sonoma exhibit this year was not near so extensive and varied as last season, else first premium would undoubtedly have been secured. There were several causes for this, the principal one being that the Fair opened too early in the season to allow Sonoma Valley to make anything like the showing she could have made a month later. Taking second premium under these circumstances was really a greater victory than that won last year when first premium was secured, as on that occasion we were enabled to put on exhibition almost every product of the valley, wherein owing to the Fair opening and closing a month earlier only a partial exhibit was made this year.

The following Sonoma Valley people contributed to the success of the Sonoma County Exhibit this season:

H. E. Boyes, Sonoma—Wine grapes, 21 varieties; table grapes, 6 varieties; peaches, 3 varieties; apples, pears and tomatoes, 2 varieties each.

Allen Box, Glen Ellen—Pears, 2 varieties; apples, 2 varieties; white Dent corn.

M. K. Cady, Agua Caliente—Wine grapes, 14 varieties; table grapes 5 varieties.

Mrs. C. C. Carriger, Sonoma—Plums, prunes, pears, 2 varieties each; peaches, 3 varieties.

B. F. Campbell, Sonoma—Peaches and quinces, two varieties each; pond lilies.

O. W. Craig, Sonoma—Grapes, 7 varieties.

E. P. Cutter, Sonoma—Nantucket pumpkins.

L. F. Chinn, Los Guilucos—Hemp stalks, Jerusalem artichokes.

G. F. Hooper, Sonoma—Oranges, lemons, persimmons 2 varieties; chestnuts, English walnuts and olives, 2 varieties each; 12 bottles olive oil 1888, 5 bottles 1887; 12 bottles olives 1888 and 4 bottles 1887; 9 bottles cherry brandy and 8 bottles grape brandy; Reisling wine '84, '86 and '87 and Zinfandel of '84, '85, '86 and '87, several bottles of each kind and year.

Wm. McP. Hill, Glen Ellen—Apples and pears, 14 varieties; peaches, 4 varieties; plums, 4 varieties; prunes, 2 varieties; nectarines, 3 varieties, persimmons, 2 varieties; figs, 3 varieties; dried fruits, 4 varieties; vegetables, wine grapes, 19 varieties; table grapes, 19 varieties.

Robt. Howe, Sonoma—Mammoth quinces; pears, 3 varieties.

W. H. Hilton, Glen Ellen—Pears and plums, 2 varieties each.

Robt. Hall, Sonoma—Peaches, 2 varieties.

Mrs. Robert C. Johnson, Sonoma—Artichoke, fruit of flowering peach, oyster plant, kale, celery, rhubarb, sprouts marrows.

L. Knight, Glen Ellen—Grapes, 12 varieties.

C. F. Leiding, Sonoma—Apples, 7 varieties; pears, 5 varieties; plums, prunes and persimmons, 2 varieties each; quinces, figs, nuts, corn, barberries and gages 8 varieties.

A. V. La Motte, Glen Ellen—Peaches, 2 varieties; pears, tobacco, peppers, 3 varieties; melons, gourds, 6 varieties.

J. B. Lang, Glen Ellen—Prunes, pears, 2 varieties; osage orange, corn in ears.

Morris Bros. Sonoma—Apples, 3 varieties; pears, 6 varieties; plums, 2 varieties; prunes 5 varieties; wine grapes, 17 varieties; table grapes 4 varieties.

Santa Rosa.

We paid a visit to this beautiful city of thrift and progress last Tuesday and were astonished at the many improvements that have been made within the past few months. Fine business houses and stylish residences have been built, new street car lines opened up and in every part of the town could be noted improvements of various kinds. The people of Santa Rosa are progressive in every sense of the word, and when we looked at the many handsome residences and beautiful flower gardens of the "City of Roses," we sighed for old Sonoma, with her antediluvian mud houses, moss-covered fences, and thought a big think, and were more than ever impressed that this town needs a big shaking up.

John Maguire, a Veteran of the Mexican War, aged 88 years, was checked to death by a piece of meat while eating supper in Santa Rosa last Saturday.

The Grand Jury.

Henry Weyl and Col. G. F. Hooper of this place have been drawn to serve on the Grand Jury. The other members of that body are as follows: Santa Rosa—Harvey Gregory, Christian Stahl, Wiley Coughran, L. A. Murdock, A. W. Riley, F. B. Miller; Cloverdale—H. Hubbard, J. C. Holloway, H. L. Shelford; Analy—W. C. Andrews, Patrick Carroll, E. C. Hinshaw; Knight's Valley—R. R. Givens; Occan—James Sheridan, W. F. Mean; Bodega—J. E. Fowler; Russian River—John D. Grant; Washington—L. G. Ellis, E. G. Perry; Vallejo—Alma Clark, Wilfred Page, William Bihler; Mendocino—S. O. Heaton, G. D. Phillips, William Beard; Salt Point—A. J. Lancaster; Petaluma—W. W. Greening, A. B. Derby.

Personal and Social.

Mayor Walsh of Petaluma was in town Thursday.

Lee R. Steele of the "Merced Daily Argus" is visiting in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Ward of Tiburon paid Sonoma a visit of several days this week.

Miss Bertie Sydnor, after an absence of several weeks, has returned to her home.

Miss Emma Ludeman tendered a social party to a number of her little friends, last Sunday afternoon, the occasion being the eighth anniversary of her birthday. After the playing of games and other amusements had been indulged in the little folks were invited to partake of refreshments, consisting of chocolate, cakes, pies, candies and fruits. After doing justice to these good things the playing of games was resumed until a late hour in the afternoon, when all wended their way homeward. Miss Emma was the recipient of a number of pretty presents. Those present were: Emma Powell, Marvina Martins, Della Powell, Celie Granice, Ethel Pauli, Della Pauli, Julie Granice, Emma Ludeman, August Ludeman, Adolph Ludeman and Dora Ludeman.

Glen Ellen Gossip.

The rain of last week laid the dust and was a welcome visiter in many ways.

Geo. Beatty, the butcher, has erected a large and commodious barn on his property.

The section house on the Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad was neatly painted last week, greatly improving its appearance.

J. I. Robinson, the Republican nominee for Auditor and Recorder, was in town last Friday and Saturday.

Tramps are beginning to get numerous and are staking out their various claims under oak trees, old barns, etc.

Mr. S. M. Shinn, who resides about three miles from here has been quite ill for the past few weeks but is now greatly improving.

Chas. Kohler of Kohler & Frohing of San Francisco was up a few days last week.

Wm. Bruning, who has been visiting in San Francisco for the past two weeks, arrived home last Saturday evening. OLD TIMER.

American Party Rally.

A grand American party rally will be held at the Athenæum, Santa Rosa, this evening. Speeches will be made by Hon. Frank M. Pixley and Hon. P. D. Wigginton. As the fare is only sixty cents from Sonoma to Santa Rosa over the new railroad a large number of people from this valley will take in the speaking. Reports from Santa Rosa say that indications point to this meeting as being one of the largest ever held in that city.

Democratic Speaking.

Dr. H. Schneider of New York and Hon. George Pearce are advertised in another column to address the people of Sonoma on the political issues of the day at Union Hall next Thursday evening. Dr. Schneider, who is a highly-educated German, will address his countrymen in that language.

The Safest Medicine

To have about the house at all times is Simmons Liver Regulator. It will harm no one. It will benefit all who may have attacks of Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Headache, Constipation, or other ailments resulting from a disordered Liver or Stomach. Keep it always in the house, and you will have a family physician near who will save you many dollars and much suffering.

The Union Hotel is first class in every respect.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.

Two Hundred Thousand Dollars to be Expended in Improving El Verano.

The Sonoma Valley Improvement Company has adopted the following plan for the improvement of El Verano, the new town on the line of the Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad:

One hundred Dwelling Houses will be built, for from $500 to $2,000, the whole to cost	$100,000
A tract of 230 acres of land immediately adjoining the town and constituting part of the townsite will be purchased for	40,000
In the center of this tract is a beautiful knoll covered with magnificent oaks and commanding a view overlooking Sonoma Valley. On this knoll will be erected a Hotel at a cost of	20,000
A brick Business Block will be constructed to cost	10,000
A Cannery will be built and equipped for	20,000
Water-works will be constructed costing	10,000
	$200,000

The Sonoma Valley Improvement Company will issue one thousand shares of its capital stock at $100 per share, payable $10 in cash and balance in eighteen monthly installments of $5 each without interest.

One thousand lots 25x140 at El Verano will be sold for $100 each, payable $10 in cash and balance in eighteen monthly installments of five dollars each without interest. With the fund of $100,000 derived from this source houses ranging in cost from $500 to $2,000 will be built on one hundred of these lots, the whole one hundred houses to cost $100,000.

The company will also erect on two of the lots a brick business block at a cost of $10,000. In the distribution of the lots the two lots on which this building is erected will go as one lot, and a vineyard of about thirty acres will be treated in the distribution as one lot to make up the full thousand lots sold.

The purchaser of each lot will thus receive for his investment of $100 a lot which, when all these contemplated improvements are carried out, will be worth $200 or more.

Or a lot with a house built at a cost of from $500 to $2,000.

Or a lot 50x140 with a brick business block erected at a cost of $10,000.

Or a vineyard of thirty acres worth $15,000.

Every purchaser will have an equal opportunity of receiving the most valuable of the properties.

The improvements referred to will be commenced before January, 1889, and will all be completed before May, 1890; and during the latter month there will be held at El Verano a grand auction sale at which all the property of the Improvement Company remaining unsold will be offered at auction.

On the afternoon of the last day of this auction the distribution of the one thousand lots with the one hundred houses and the brick block and the vineyard will take place.

On the day following there will be another auction sale at which any of those to whom lots or houses have been distributed who may desire to dispose of them can do so at once.

The construction of the hotel will make El Verano, with its beautiful surroundings and charming climate, a most popular summer resort.

The expenditure of this sum of $200,000 at El Verano within the next eighteen months will draw to it a small army of workmen and mechanics; and the greater part of their earnings will be invested or disbursed in the town. The demand for homes and business thus created will give the town an impetus which will ensure its rapid growth and permanent prosperity, as the business of the entire Sonoma valley, one of the most fertile and prosperous valleys of the State, is destined to center at El Verano.

For every house erected by the company it is safe to estimate that another will be built by private individuals, so that at the expiration of the twenty months during which these improvements will be going on, the town will beyond a doubt contain over two hundred homes and a permanent population of over one thousand people.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Notsrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Startling Discovery.

The discovery by the inhabitants of a locality hitherto unvisited by the pestilent scourge of fever and ague, that it exists in their very midst, is decidedly startling. Such discoveries are made every season, in every part of the Union. Subsequently, when it is ascertained, as it invariably is at such times, through the valuable experience of some one who has been benefitted and cured, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a thoroughly efficacious eradicator of the malarial poison, and a means of fortifying the system against it, a feeling of more security and tranquility reigns throughout the whole neighborhood. Besides the febrile forms of malarial disease, dumb ague and ague cake are removed by the potent action of the Bitters, to which science also gives its sanction as a remedy for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, debility, Kidney troubles, and all diseases impairing the organs of digestion and assimilation.

AUBREY'S GREAT RIDE.

Remarkable Journey on Horseback Across the Western Plains.

Among the deeds of early life in the west the famous ride of F. X. Aubrey from the plaza of Santa Fe to the public square of Independence, Mo., as a physical achievement stands without an equal. Indeed it is doubtful if the history of the world can present a parallel to that great ride of 800 miles, through a country overrun with hostile Indians, a large part of the distance being through sandy deserts and leading across rivers, mountains and prairies, with only the sky for a covering and the earth as a resting place.

An old resident of this city, who used to know Aubrey very well, in conversation recently said:

"When I first met Aubrey, about 1848, he was a young man of 35, the perfect picture of health and strength. Short, rather heavy set, weighing about 160 pounds, he had an honest, open countenance, and was one of the rising men of the plains. He was a French Canadian, came to St. Louis in 1840, and very soon afterward engaged in business as a Santa Fe trader, making trips to Santa Fe from Independence, Mo., and spending the larger part of his time in the saddle. He was a noted horseman, and spared neither man nor beast when on a journey. Every thing he did was done with a rush.

"Aubrey made two rides alone from Santa Fe to Independence. The first was on a wager of $1,000 that he could cover the distance in eight days. He succeeded in reaching his destination three hours before the expiration of the time. He killed several horses in the ride, and it is said that the death of one horse on the way obliged him to walk twenty-five miles to Council Grove, carrying his saddle on his back, before he found another. He was the lion of the day at St. Louis and Independence after that ride. There were many powerful men and many good riders in those times, but not one of them dared to attempt to beat Aubrey's record. He determined to beat it himself, and on a second wager he left Santa Fe in 1851, and gave the severest test of human endurance I have ever known.

"I was on my way to Santa Fe (it was thirty-seven years ago) with a train of twenty-five wagons filled with merchandise, and knew nothing of his design. When we were at the Rabbit Ears, about 100 miles from the old Spanish city, we saw a man approaching in a sweeping gallop, mounted on a yellow mare and leading another. As he came nearer, mistaking us for Indians, he whirled and retreated fifty or sixty yards, then turned to take a second look. Our wagons coming round a hill proved that we were friends, and, putting spurs to his steed, he dashed past, merely nodding his head as the dust flew into our faces. It was a great surprise to me for Aubrey to treat a friend in that style, but when I reached Santa Fe I understood it. Every moment was precious. It was the supreme effort of his life. Night and day he rushed on. Six horses dropped dead as he rode them.

"His own beautiful mare, Nellie, the one he was riding as he passed our party and one of the finest pieces of horse flesh I ever saw, quivered and fell in the agonies of death at the end of the first 150 miles. Several splendid horses had been sent ahead, and stationed at different points on the trail. No man could keep up with Aubrey. He would have sacrificed every horse in the west, if necessary to the accomplishment of his design. It was not money he was after, but fame. He had laid a wager that the trip would be made in six days.

"At the end of five days and thirteen hours, exhausted and fainting, he was taken from a horse that was trembling from head to foot, and covered with sweat and foam, at the southwest corner of the present square of Independence. He sank into a stupor, from which he was not aroused for forty-eight hours."

Usefulness of After Life.

It is a great mistake to suppose that the usefulness of life ceases with the power of active service. When the tired hands are folded in the repose which their toil has rightly earned for them; when the weary brain is relieved from the burden of cares and perplexities which it has nobly borne, there should be a season rich in blessings and in influence, which no one would willingly forego. Then should come the leisure sadly longed for in past years, and the opportunity to attend to many things, and to enjoy much that was before impossible.

If the busy life has also been an honorable one, there are sweet memories, cherished friendships, the devotion of children, the respect of society, the power of helping others through the accumulated experience and intelligence of many years. The very presence of a venerable and beloved face is a blessing to those who look upon it, bringing suggestions of well earned peace and calm to the busy toiler, and calling up emotions of tender reverence in the eager and buoyant youth.—Home Journal.

Where to Learn Penmanship.

The best place in the world to make a man involuntarily learn to write a good hand is on a steamboat. Men who are careless about the formation of letters, after an experience as a clerk on board a steamboat, become excellent penmen. The constant shaking and jar of the boat while under way causes the clerk to steady his nerves and form the letters carefully when he is writing. I have seen men go to a desk on a steamboat and write so badly that it was almost impossible to decipher the letters. I have seen these same men a few months later write as legibly as the average business man could desire. The swinging of the boat had, of necessity, caused them to be careful in writing, and in a few months a slovenly hand was improved to a beautiful chirography.—Pell Thomas in Globe-Democrat.

Vulgarity of Selfishness.

No man has a right to live selfishly or to perpetuate his selfishness in his will. The law recognizes the importance of the family life and provides for its stability, and the man who makes no provision for his family is as culpable as he who, though abundantly capable, makes no provision beyond it. But the perpetuation of vast fortunes as family monuments is the vulgarity of selfishness.—Christian Register.

The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga—Gentlemen: I can cheerfully and truthfully say that S. S. S., is the greatest blood purifier on earth. In 1884 I contracted blood poison. Physicians treated me with no good results. I took half dozen different kinds of blood medicine, but without receiving any permanent relief! I was induced to try S. S. S. I began the first bottle with the gravest doubts of success. I had been so often deceived. But improvement came, and I continued its use until perfectly well. I have since married and have a healthy family. No trace of the disease is seen. Swift's Specific done all this for me, and I am grateful. Yours trully,

MISCELLANEOUS.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For nursing sore throat, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhœa, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription" when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, paper-covered), send ten cents in stamps. Address,

World's Dispensary Medical Association,

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S BAZAR is a home journal. It combines choice literature and fine art illustrations with the latest intelligence regarding the fashions. Each number has a clever serial and short stories, practical and timely essays, bright poems, humorous sketches, etc. Its pattern sheet and fashion-plate supplement will alone help ladies to save many times the cost of the subscription, and papers on social etiquette, decorative art, house-keeping in all its branches, cookery, etc., make it useful in every household, and a true promoter of economy. Its editorials are marked by good sense, and not a line admitted to its columns that could offend the most fastidious taste.

The Volumes of the BAZAR begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Bound Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, for three years back, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume), for $7.00 per volume.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.
